Menaul School

Every prospective teacher will need to support English language learners and show sensitivity for learners from many cultural backgrounds. Our faculty-led trip to Albuquerque offers a unique experience to work with an economically and ethnically diverse population in the Southwest.

Whitworth candidates will be placed at our partnership site, Menaul School, a private Presbyterian boarding school dedicated to holistic, faith based education. As a college preparatory school for grades 6-12, candidates will work with students from local Native American, Hispanic and African-American families as well as those boarding at Menaul from international sites.

Candidates will be housed in a faculty-housing complex at the school (laundry facilities and free WiFi available). There will be faculty-led weekend excursions to Sante Fe and Acoma Pueblo.

Students can take advantage of the entire city and even participate in Albuquerque's world renowned hot air balloon flights.

Course Objectives

1. Reflect upon your experience, evaluate your intercultural skill level, articulate what you do well, and identify areas in which you need to grow.
2. Experience living and/or working in a culture different from your own.
3. Analyze your ability to assist a diverse group of children and/or adults in learning experiences.
4. Revise your vision statement to reflect your growth in intercultural understanding.
