ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF STRATEGIC MANAGEMENT/INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS
SCHOOL OF GLOBAL COMMERCE AND MANAGEMENT
FULL-TIME, RENEWABLE, TENURE TRACK
CONTRACT START DATE: JULY 1, 2014

Application review will begin immediately. The position will remain open and applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

The School of Global Commerce and Management at Whitworth University invites applications for a tenure track, Assistant Professor of Strategic Management/International Business. A doctoral degree in Strategy or a related field is required (ABD’s will be considered) along with a commensurate record of quality research and publications.

THE INSTITUTION:
Established in 1890, Whitworth has been consistently ranked among the top regional colleges and universities in the West. Whitworth combines a strong liberal arts perspective, the Christian heritage of the University, its commitment to academic rigor, and its long-standing orientation toward human service. A community of Christian scholars carries out the university’s mission “to provide its diverse student body an education of the mind and heart.”

THE SCHOOL:
Whitworth’s School of Global Commerce and Management (SGCM) is in the process of pursuing AACSB accreditation and is recruiting scholars who can contribute to this effort. Small class sizes combined with close interaction between students and faculty enable our graduates to acquire the essential professional skills and knowledge to successfully compete for positions in today’s high velocity global marketplace. The undergraduate degree program is the one of the largest on campus with an estimated 16% of all Whitworth students choosing to major in business and economics areas. The School offers both a traditional undergraduate degree with majors in accounting, economics, international business, management, and marketing, and a unique undergraduate degree completion program in organizational management. The graduate program provides an excellent Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree.

FACULTY RESPONSIBILITIES:
In addition to being active scholars, applicants must be committed to the cultivation of superior teaching skills in management courses at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Teaching assignments may include Business Policy, Global Strategic Management, International Management, and Entrepreneurship. An interest in interdisciplinary research and co-authorship with SGCM colleagues is valued. Applicants are expected to actively participate in important university, school and departmental support and service responsibilities (e.g., faculty governance, assurance of learning activities, and student advising). Collegiality is valued and the ability to get along with other people is required.

QUALIFICATIONS, SKILLS AND ABILITIES:
• A doctoral degree in management or a closely related field. Applicants that are ABD will be considered for the position if they are currently in the process of completing their doctoral degree and have a definite completion date before August 2014.
• Must be Academically Qualified in management under the current AACSB faculty qualification standards.
• Willingness to teach across all three business programs including day and evening programs, at various locations and through different modalities (e.g. online).
• Demonstrated effectiveness in college-level undergraduate and graduate teaching (including the adult learners), possessing strong relational skills with students and colleagues.
• Evidence of scholarly activity and an on-going stream of research in the field strategic management/international business.
• Substantial executive-level corporate or business consulting experience preferred.
• A personal commitment to the Christian faith and to the integration of faith and learning.
• Must be able to communicate effectively in English.
• Demonstrated awareness and commitment to effectively establishing relationships and positive communications across multiple dimensions of diversity including, but not limited to race, gender, physical limitations, class or religious perspectives.
• Must meet eligibility requirements to work in the United States by the time the appointment is scheduled to begin and continue to work legally for the proposed term of employment. (Including OPT)
• A commitment to the educational mission of Whitworth as a Christian liberal arts university affiliated with the Presbyterian church.
• Background check and education verification required.
