Effective Preaching in a Postmodern World

July 7-9, 2005

In our increasingly postmodern society, myriad voices are competing for the hearts, minds, and allegiances of men and women. Seldom before has the need been greater in our culture to hear the truth of the Gospel preached with power, conviction, and authority. Please join us July 7-9 as we gather on the Whitworth campus to explore the dynamics of good preaching, examine how to make our preaching more passionate and relevant, and encourage one another to more faithful proclamation in the 21st century.

In addition to the keynote sessions, there will be opportunities to speak with the presenters, workshops focusing on the practical aspects of preaching, and celebrative worship.

Keynote Speakers

M. Craig Barnes, Ph.D.
Menefee Professor of Leadership and Ministry
Pittsburgh Theological Seminary

The Rev. M. Craig Barnes, Ph.D., became the Menefee Professor of Leadership and Ministry at Pittsburgh Theological Seminary in September of 2002. Previously, he served as the senior pastor of The National Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C. His doctorate is from the University of Chicago, where his advisor was Martin Marty. He is the author of several popular books, including most recently Sacred Thirst: Finding God in the Desert of our Longings and Hustling God: Why We Work So Hard for What God Wants to Give.

Charles L. Bartow, Ph.D.
Carl and Helen Egner Professor of Speech Communication in Ministry
Princeton Theological Seminary

Worship Leader

Ben Brody, ’98, served as director of music at First Presbyterian Church, Seattle, before returning to Whitworth as assistant professor of church music. Brody is an accomplished musician and worship leader.
