WHAT CAN I DO WITH A POLITICAL SCIENCE MAJOR?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>AREAS</th>
<th>EMPLOYERS</th>
<th>STRATEGIES</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>LOCAL AND STATE GOVT.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Public policy / Regional planning / City or town management / Legislative, executive, or judicial services / Social services / Law enforcement</td>
<td>Counties / Cities / Municipalities / Townships / School districts / Departments of state government / Legislative agencies / Court systems</td>
<td>• Get involved in civic organizations and events.&lt;br&gt;• Complete an internship in a government agency, like the Olympia internship program.&lt;br&gt;• Consider applying for an AmeriCorps position - http://www.nationalservice.gov/programs/americorps&lt;br&gt;• Employment opportunities in local government tend to follow population trends in terms of growth and decline in availability of positions. Check statistics on growing communities to find the most opportunities. Be prepared to relocate.&lt;br&gt;• Develop a network of contacts through referrals and informational interviews.&lt;br&gt;• Familiarize yourself with the government application process.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

| FEDERAL GOVERNMENT | | |
| Public policy / Research / Intelligence / Foreign service / Law enforcement / General services / Legislative, executive, or judicial services / Program administration | There are over 17 federal departments and agencies. | • Apply for and obtain an internship, like the American Studies Program in D.C.• Seek leadership roles in relevant campus organizations such as student government and cross-cultural organizations.• Consider applying for an AmeriCorps position - http://www.nationalservice.gov/programs/americorps• Write articles on national and international issues for The Whitworthian. • Develop skills in computers, statistics, and data analysis.• Acquire foreign language competency and travel experience for international positions.• There are a large number of specialized agencies within the federal government. Do extensive research in order to find the area that best fits your interests.• Become familiar with the government application process. Utilize applicable websites and seek assistance from the Career Services Office.• Conduct informational interviews with government employees. |
| LAW | Prosecution / Defense / Contractual / Corporate / Nonprofit or public interest / Government / Mediation / Law assistance | Law firms / Federal, state and local government / Private practice / Corporations / Special interest groups / Universities / Legal aid societies / Nonprofit and public interest organizations, e.g. ACLU, NAACP Legal Defense Fund / Legal clinics | • Talk with Dr. Julia Stronks, the pre-law adviser.
• Develop strong research skills and attention to detail.
• Participate in debate or ethics bowl to hone communication skills.
• Find part-time or summer work in a law firm, and/or obtain a law-related internship with an agency like Center for Justice or the Spokane Public Defender’s Office.
• Shadow an attorney to learn more about the field and various specialties. |
| POLITICS | Elected or appointed leadership / Campaign management / Staff administration / Special interest advocacy / Political advising / Lobbying | Legislative, executive or judicial officials / National, state or local government / Political action committees / Political parties / Campaigns: national, state or local / Industrial, educational and public interest groups / Lobbying organizations / Large business firms | • Volunteer for national or local campaigns, or intern with government agencies.
• Be prepared to begin a career as a volunteer before moving to paid positions.
• Obtain leadership roles in campus organizations.
• Become involved in campus political groups, student government, publications, or community service projects.
• Take courses in statistics, or other specific interest groups.
• Get involved with a political party/group and develop a personal network. The ability to build networks, coalitions and alliances with other associations is highly valued.
• Develop excellent public relations, interpersonal and communication skills. |
| INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS | Governance / Policy making and analysis / Public sector reform / Poverty-reduction strategy / Ethics and anti-corruption / Human rights / Public law / Organization and management development / Resource development / Media | Intergovernmental agencies, e.g. World Bank, United Nations, etc. / National governments / Non-profit agencies / Religious organizations / Foundations / Policy and research organizations / Private businesses / Contracting and consulting firms | • Earn a double major or minor in international business in order to gain additional skills or knowledge, e.g. Asian studies, foreign language.
• Spend time studying or working abroad. Make and maintain contacts in foreign countries.
• Seek cultural experience on campus.
• Obtain internships or volunteer to gain valuable experience in areas of interest.
• Participate in Jan-Term overseas trips or the Tanzania semester trip.
• Research the history and culture of the countries or geographic areas of interest.
• Become proficient in at least one foreign language.
• Take steps toward obtaining work or study visas for various locations.
• Plan to earn a graduate degree in international affairs, foreign policy, or other specialty areas.
• Consider entering the Peace Corps – www.peacecorps.gov |
Business
- Acquire a business minor or add business as a double major.
- Gain experience in an area of interest through internships or other employment.
- Obtain leadership roles in campus organizations.
- Hone computer skills and learn software packages such as databases, spreadsheets, and presentations.
- Become knowledgeable about corporate social responsibility.

Nonprofit
- Obtain an internship with World Vision, Project Hope, or Community Garden.
- Consider applying for an AmeriCorps position - http://www.nationalservice.gov/programs/americorps
- Supplement curriculum with courses in business, psychology, or sociology.
- Obtain leadership roles in relevant campus and community organizations.
- Learn how to write grants.
- Demonstrate knowledge and experience in a specialty area, e.g., environment.
- Research organizations’ values to find a good fit with yours. It is critical that you are knowledgeable about and committed to the work you’re going to do.
- Investigate term of service or service corps positions as a way to gain entry into the field.
- Consider earning a graduate degree for more job opportunities and advancement.

Media
- Minor in communication studies.
- Obtain an internship or work experience with a newspaper, magazine, radio station, or television station.
- Become proficient in desktop publishing and photography.
- Develop a professional network and become aware of various social media.
- Become a student member of professional associations.
- Create a portfolio of published writing samples.
- Obtain experience in and knowledge of a specialty area of interest. Experience in government is usually required for specialized reporting positions.
- Develop a professional image for television or other visual media positions.
- Volunteer to announce local or campus sporting events.
- Become involved in the theatre program, e.g., direct, act, or work with technical crew.
Elementary / Middle / Secondary / Administration / Higher Education: K-12 schools, public and private / Boards of education / Four-year colleges and universities / Two-year and community colleges / Technical schools / Medical and professional schools teaching, research, administration, student affairs, information services

- Complete a teacher preparation program to teach in the public school system.
- Obtain teaching certificate/license for desire subject area and/or grade level. Requirements for certification/licensure vary by state. Seek multiple certifications to increase employability.
- Private schools may not require certification or licensure but may prefer candidates with graduate degrees in subject areas.
- A doctoral degree is required to teach and research at four-year institutions or to enter the highest levels of university administration. A master’s or Ph.D. degree is required to teach at two-year schools.
- Earn a master’s degree in student personnel, student development, counseling, or library/information sciences for student affairs and librarian positions.
- Gain related experience on campus through student leadership opportunities such as Resident Assistants.
- Apply for programs such as Teach For America – www.teachforamerica.org, or international teaching programs.

GENERAL INFORMATION
- For current political science career opportunities visit http://gspp.berkeley.edu/career-services/career-resource-links.
- An undergraduate degree in political science is good preparation for graduate or professional study in areas such as political science, public administrations, foreign policy, law, business and more. Carefully research programs in order to choose specializations or concentrations of interest.
- Maintain a high grade point average to ensure admission into a graduate or law program and/or a position within the government.
- Expect keen competition for federal positions. Prepare yourself with a strong academic background and good experience. Many government jobs have strict guidelines and want to carefully match candidates’ knowledge, skills, and abilities to the job description. Research this first and seek the classes and experiences that will best prepare you.
- Develop strong leadership skills; run for office in clubs and organizations in your school or community. Volunteer to organize or lead an event or project.
- Join related social and/or professional organizations.
- Build a strong personal network through informal contacts.
- Consider military experience and training as an entryway into government jobs and public service. The Peace Corps is also a good way to enter a career in government.

©1992 The University of Tennessee