Dear Prospective Resident Assistant:

Take a deep breath...breathe!

You’re about to start a journey that I believe is nothing less than life changing. By filling out this RA application you are telling Residence Life that you want to be part of something bigger than yourself. You are telling us that you want to be involved in helping students figure out who they are and how they fit into the Whitworth community. You are also telling me that you want to continue to grow yourself.

This process is not an easy process. Growing in and of itself can be painful. But with this growth comes a greater understanding of yourself and the role you play in relationship to others. It will take time and you may feel overwhelmed, but you will be transformed if you allow the process to work, and I can’t wait to play my small part in that process.

Before you begin completing your application, take time to read all of the materials within this brochure and posted online. The Resident Assistant job description will help you more fully understand the position for which you are applying, and give you the best possible chance at becoming an RA next year.

Give special attention to the enclosed timeline. If you have questions regarding the position please refer to the FAQ document included in this packet or contact a Resident Director. We look forward to seeing you involved in the hiring process.

Sincerely,
Tim Caldwell
Director of Residence Life

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS
ABOUT BEING A RESIDENT ASSISTANT

Who is a Resident Assistant?

Whitworth University is looking for someone who...
- is genuine and authentic
- is a team player
- is interested in investing in the lives of others
- understands the importance of community
- is responsible
- has integrity
- is self-aware and teachable
- has an understanding of the RA position

Whitworth University is looking for authentic leaders.
The Residence Life staff seeks to hire people who are authentically themselves. Whether you are introverted or extroverted, from a faith background or not...we gladly welcome your application.

Expectations and Responsibilities

With whom will I work?
You will have the opportunity to work with many different types of people in your role as a Resident Assistant. You will work closely with your fellow Resident Assistants on your staff and your Resident Director. You will also get the chance to collaborate with Resident Assistants from staffs across campus throughout the year. Each living community (theme houses excluded) has a leadership team that may include ASWU, Cultural Diversity Advocates, Resident Assistants, and Campus Ministry Coordinators.

How much time will I spend a week as an RA?
In a sense, you will spend seven days a week, 24 hours a day as an RA. This does not mean that you’re always actively participating as an RA, but that you are an RA wherever you go. On average you will be spending about 16 official hours per week on the job – this includes staff meetings, programs, PrimeTimes.

What paperwork is required?
RAs are responsible for posting flyers, maintaining bulletin boards, and coordinating other “information sharing” tasks. There will be various assignments as a part of the GE 330 course that all Resident Assistants are required to take. Additionally, RAs are responsible for completing multiple types of paperwork:
- Incident Report Forms
- Student Concern Forms
- RA and RD Evaluations

Why does Residence Life prefer that I have a 2.5 minimum GPA?
Your first priority is that of student. That is why you are at Whitworth. A minimum preferred GPA requirement has been established to ensure that you succeed as a student. If you think you have an extenuating circumstance to explain your low GPA, you may apply. However, at the time employment begins, your GPA must be at a 2.5 or above. A GPA below a 2.5 will result in the RA being placed on probation and/or termination from the Resident Assistant position.

Are there other expectations for RAs?
RAs are expected to be role models and to follow all University policies. As student leaders, RAs are held to a higher behavioral standard. RAs can be dismissed for not performing the duties of the position at an adequate level; for violating Whitworth’s behavioral expectations for students; or for off-campus behavior that is a violation of the law or that negatively affects the ability of the RA to effectively do his / her job.

Community Building

What is PrimeTime?
Each day between 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. (8 p.m. – 11 p.m. in September) you may find student leaders available in the lounge or "living room" of the residence halls. They are there for a variety of reasons: to offer some sort of activity for residents to be involved in, to be a listening ear, or to get supplies that may be needed (vacuums, cleaning supplies, games, etc.). It is a great place to get to know other people who live in the building.
What is a Theme House Program?

Every theme house is required to do one program per month. Each program should be geared to fit the theme and mission of the house. A Theme House RA's responsibilities include attending 10 programs per semester. They help advertise the program and aid in the organization of the program. RAs play an active role in helping houses assess and develop house purposes and programs.

What is a Standing Appointment?

This is a routinely scheduled activity (e.g., Hall tea, floor dinner) that occurs once a week at the same time each week.

Compensation and Budget

What is the pay for the RA position?

As an RA, the room cost is credited to your account and you will receive a bi-monthly stipend. If you are away for Jan Term you will not get paid for that month.

How and when do I get paid for being an RA?

The stipend can be credited to your student account balance or deposited as a paycheck. The default setting is that the stipend is direct-deposited into your checking account. In the first week of training, you will have the option to fill out paperwork to change the default.

Training and Work Schedule

What type of training is provided?

The Residence Life Staff will hold mandatory training programs in August; if selected, you will be notified of training dates during the spring term. Fall training begins midway through August. In late July or early August, your Resident Director will contact you to discuss your arrival plans and you will be notified of the date, time, and location of our first training activity. Training will run continuously until the residence halls officially open. There will be evening and weekend training sessions and social activities planned. You are required to actively participate in all of the training and social activities. Plan your summer and work schedule accordingly.

What is a one-on-one?

In addition to staff meetings, you will have a weekly individual meeting with your Resident Director. This meeting is generally called a “one-on-one” because it provides a private time for you and your RD to discuss your progress as an RA and what is happening in your living area. Your one-on-one will generally last one-half hour to one hour.

What is GE 330?

GE 330 is a one credit leadership class that meets once a week both fall and spring semester that all Resident Assistants are required to take.

Can I leave on weekends?

Yes, you may leave weekends if you are not scheduled on PrimeTime. If you go away please let your RD know before you leave.

Do I have to work over breaks?

You are required to work one break in which the residence halls are open per academic year. You will coordinate this with your RD and your RA team, and are required to sleep on campus and provide PrimeTime coverage. Break coverage includes Fall Break, Thanksgiving Break, and Jan Term Break.

Am I required to open and close the hall, and what does that entail?

Opening entails arriving before the other students to welcome residents, troubleshoot, and be available to help others. We close the residence halls for Christmas Break, Spring Break, and at the end of the academic year. The RA staff in each hall works with their RD to determine who is responsible for opening and closing during each break period. Closing duties include checking students out and securing the building once all the students have left. Please do not make vacation or travel plans until you have consulted with your supervisor to determine what role you will be playing during each opening and closing. Your first priority is completing your RA job responsibilities.

General Questions about the Application Process

Can I choose the residence hall I want to be in?

Resident Assistant placement is determined by the Residence Life staff and is based on the needs of each living community and the teams being created for that specific community. Our selection process allows us to get a good idea of where you would fit in and allows you to share where you think you would thrive the best.

If I have violated behavioral policy, can I still be hired to be a Resident Assistant? Yes.
